SOLDIERS IN BREST

LIEUT. ALFRED KNIGHT WRITES OF CONDITIONS IN THE MUDDY FRENCH CAMP

Since reading in the daily press that Secretary of War Baker had instituted an investigation of conditions of the camp at Brest, France, where a good many overseas troops are stationed, special interest will attach to the following letter from Lieut. Alfred W. Knight, postmarked Brest, November 29th. It is to the members of his family and reads:

ON ACTIVE SERVICE WITH THE U. S. EXPED. FORCES
November 29, 1918.
Brest, France.

Dear Folks:—

Here we are back in the mud at Bretagne. When we got the order for the regiment to come here from Montoir it was intimated to us that we would leave for the U. S. at once, and I was under that impression when I wrote the last letter to you, but tried not to say so in the letter, as I wasn't sure. When we got here they told us to get our passenger lists ready and that we would probably leave on the first available transport which would have been tomorrow at the latest, but we all had a sort of hunch that something would happen to keep us here, and sure enough, today we got an order assigning us to duty with the Engineers here for a period of from six weeks to three months.

In some ways, of course, I would have been glad to get back to the States and home again, but I really would like to see a little more of France now that I am over here, and we all sort of feel that it is up to us who have been over here such a short time to stay here now and expedite the homeward movement of the troops who have been over here a longer time and have done the fighting. At all events, in the army "orders is orders," so we are slated to stay here whether we like it or not.

We are in galvanized iron barracks this time, instead of tents, with bunks made of canvas stretched between iron pipes, and expect to get stoves soon, so that our quarters will be fairly comfortable. However, everything not under cover is one sea of slippery, sticky mud, due to the seemingly perpetual dizzling rain and the tramping of so many feet. There are two kinds of mud here, shallow mud with a hard bottom only about half an inch below the surface, and deep mud with apparently no bottom. Walking on the shallow kind is as treacherous as skating on ice, and one is lucky to get thru a day without flopping on the ground at last once, while in the deep kind your feet go in at each step like a potato masher in a deep bowl full of soft mashed potatoes and sticks like glue. Hip boots are practically the only footwear worn around here, as anything else would be ruined in no time. However, we have been here three days and are getting fairly used to it now and sort of enjoy splashing around.

The first part of this letter up to this point was written last night in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, while waiting for a movie show to start; so I want to finish it this morning and get it off.

The Y. M. C. A. auditorium seats about a thousand, but it is always filled a good hour before the show is due to start, and the only way to get a seat is to get a book or some writing paper and go in and read or write until the performance begins.

Day before yesterday was Thanksgiving, but I guess all the turkeys that came to France went right on thru here to the front. We had our regular every-day dinner, which was plenty, but didn't taste like Thanksgiving.

Haven't gotten any mail for over a week, but I'm looking forward to a letter from you soon.

In case, by any chance, this reaches you before Christmas, here's another wish for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

With lots of love,
Address:—
ALF.
Lt. A. W. Knight,
50th Art'y, C. A. C.,

ENTERTAIN OLD LADIES

Miss Evangeline Quackenbush was one of the Glendale girls who helped to entertain the old ladies at the Southern California home New Year's day. Miss Quackenbush played several violin selections among them the Sextette, Schubert's Serenade, and by request "A Perfect Day." She was accompanied on the piano by her talented cousin, Miss Faith Tarling. In the evening Miss Quackenbush, Miss Tarling and Miss Walters helped to make up a party that attended a Los Angeles theatre.

TELEPHONE TOLLS

THEIR APPLICATION TO GLENDALE DISCUSSED BEFORE THE CITY COUNCIL

The subject of paramount interest at the meeting of Glendale City Trustees Thursday evening, which was attended by representative citizens and members of the Greater Glendale Improvement Association, was the report of City Attorney Evans on the situation with reference to the toll between Los Angeles and Glendale about to be imposed by the local telephone company.

He made a resume statement of the action taken to protest and combat the proposed toll which had included the employment by the city of special engineering talent (James E. Barker) to visit San Francisco, examine the records of the Company and prepare data to be used in the presentation of the city's protest before the Railroad Commission; but before that protest was heard, the United States Government took over the control of the telephone lines of the country and the case was removed from its calendar.

He also exhibited a chart prepared in the city offices to be used in connection with the data secured by Mr. Barker, showing the approximate number of telephone subscribers in Glendale that have business connections in Los Angeles. A great many maintain phones here because of their business connections in Los Angeles. The telephone calls between Glendale and Los Angeles average about $600 per day.

Mr. Evans stated that some concern in the east has filed a suit to test the constitutionality of the taking over of the management of telephone companies by the government.

He also set forth his efforts to secure some expression in regard to the government's policy with regard to this rate controversy after the company's lines were taken over, and his failure to get any satisfaction; how he sent a statement of the case to his law partner, Mr. Abbott, now in the government employ in Washington, asking him to negotiate. From him he had a reply under date of October 14th saying he had taken the matter up with the Postmaster General and finally succeeded in having an interview with D. J. Lewis, Chairman of the special committee appointed to standardize telephone rates. Mr. Lewis said that no special hearings would be had on such matters as this but that the committee and its experts expect to make an economic study of the entire problem and adopt a uniform, country-wide policy governing all communities. Mr. Lewis also told him that special franchise conditions, in his opinion, would not be permitted to stand in the way of the enforcement of the government's rates. He said, "your community" (meaning Glendale), would be treated on a parity with others," and in this connection Mr. Abbott remarked: "Of course, the constitutional question of the power of the United States to deprive a community of vested rights, would be involved."

Mr. Evans then recited a conference he had had with Mr. Mason, head of the Telephone Company in Los Angeles, who showed him a copy of the regulation order from the Director General of Telephones in Washington which is to go into effect January 21st and which establishes toll zones, that are to start in all directions from the Los Angeles Postoffice as a radiating center, and which fix a first zone toll rate for communities with other post offices six miles away from the L. A. Post Office of 5c, and a 10c toll for the next zone beyond that limit. Mr. Mason told him, no toll would be (Continued on Page 3)

McKEE-WALKER WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Laura McKee to Sidney L. Walker, took place Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride, 334 West Colorado street.

The ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Hoskins in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, little Martell McKee, aged three years, a niece of the bride, acting as ring bearer.

Immediately following the wedding the party adjourned to the home of E. S. McKee, brother of the bride, where a New Year's wedding dinner was served.

The bride is very well known in Glendale having been employed in the store now owned by H. F. Webb for about four years.

Mr. Walker is a piano salesman for the Barnes Music Company of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker left for a short trip New Year's night and will be at home to their friends in this city after January 15th.

143d FIELD ARTILLERY AT OAKLAND

SIX HUNDRED CALIFORNIA OFFICERS AND MEN RECEIVE UPROARIOUS GREETING FROM TOWNS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News.)
Oakland, Cal., Jan. 3.—Two trains bearing 600 officers and men of the 143rd Field Artillery, all California men, and one company of casuals, arrived at 10 o'clock this morning, bound for San Francisco. They were to be the guests of Oakland, for three hours and then cross the bay to San Francisco. It is not determined whether they will parade there or go direct to the Presidio. Since daylight the towns through which the trains passed have given the home-comers an uproarious greeting.

MORE GRIZZLIES REACH NEW YORK

UNITS OF 143RD AND 144TH FIELD ARTILLERY ARRIVE ON TRANSPORT LAPSONIA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News.)
New York, Jan. 3.—The transport Lapsonia docked today from France with units of the 143rd and 144th Field Artillery aboard. There were 3,000 of the former and 1,500 of the latter. They were formerly the California National Guard, with a few trained at Camp Lewis and Camp Douglas.

RESCUE OF WOUNDED FROM TRANSPORT

AT 1:45 P. M. 900 REMAINED, THE MORE SEVERELY INJURED BEING HANDLED WITH BLOCK AND TACKLE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News.)
Fire Island, N. Y., Jan. 3.—In a rough sea, wounded soldiers are being rescued from the transport Northern Pacific, ashore here. The helpless were transferred to nearby launches on stretchers. This morning the transport had sunk deep in the sand, but was undamaged.

Fire Island, Jan. 3.—Urged by the menace of an approaching blizzard, rescue squads worked at top speed this afternoon to get off troops on the stranded Northern Pacific before the storm should break. Some of the more severely wounded were taken off by block and tackle and placed in life boats, four to each one. At 1:45 p. m. the transport signalled that 1,600 had been removed and that 900 remained on the boat.

FIELD MARSHAL VON MACKENSEN ARRESTED

London, Jan. 3.—French authorities at Budapest have arrested Field Marshal von Mackensen, according to a dispatch from Innsbruck.

RAILROAD PROBLEMS INTEREST U. S. SENATE

M'ADOO DECLARES RETURN OF ROADS TO OWNERS WILL DESTROY IMPORTANT REFORMS INSTITUTED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News.)
Washington, Jan. 3.—The return of the railroads to the several hundreds of companies formerly controlling them is impossible, if present important reforms are to be preserved, Director General McAdoo declared before the Senate commerce committee today. He declared there were three alternatives: First, the return of the railroads; second, government ownership and control; third, reconstruction of the railroad map to eliminate hundreds of companies and substitute a few under government control.

PRESIDENT WILSON IN ROME

PRESIDENTIAL PARTY IS ROYALLY ENTERTAINED BY ITALIAN KING AND HIS PEOPLE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News.)
Rome, Jan. 3.—President Wilson's special train arrived at 10 o'clock this morning. During tremendous cheering King Emanuel and Duchess Aeosta greeted the presidential party.

Following his purpose of making the public a party to the preliminary peace discussion, President Wilson will talk directly to the people of Italy. It is understood he will visit Milan and Turin, leaving tomorrow night. He will deliver his first speech in Italy at a state dinner tonight. Following the reception at the Quirinal, he visited Queen Mother Margherita. Later, at the municipal palace on Capitoline Hill, he was made a citizen of Rome. There will be important conferences with Italian statesmen this afternoon and tomorrow. He will have an audience with Pope Benedict tomorrow.

AN ULTIMATUM FROM BRITISH COMMANDER

UNLESS ADVANCE OF BOLSHIEVIKI IN BALTIC PROVINCES IS CHECKED, ALLIES WILL INVADE GERMANY

Copenhagen, Jan. 3.—The British commander of the Baltic Provinces, according to the Berlin Tageszeitung, has issued an ultimatum to the German commander that unless he prevents the further advance of the Bolsheviki, the Allies will invade Germany.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

CITIZENS APPEAR BEFORE BOARD ASKING RELIEF IN TELEPHONE TOLL MATTER

The board assembled at 7:30 p. m. Jan. 2, all members present. The minutes of the last regular meeting, including the adjourned meeting of Dec. 31, 1918, were read and approved.

At 8 p. m. bids were opened, in accordance with the advertisement for the same, with proposals to supply the city with a one-ton auto truck. The following bids were opened and publicly declared:

Kleiber Motor Truck Co., $2,500.
Walker-Wilde-McFadden, $634.57.
On motion of Trustee Shaw, seconded by Trustee Jackson, it was ordered that the bid of Walker-Wilde-McFadden, representing Ford Auto Co., be accepted and purchase made in accordance with the same.

The clerk presented the application of George Brock, an old soldier, for a refund of taxes paid, the refund amounting to $11.35 on a valuation of $1,300, also asking exemption under the provisions of the law and filing the required affidavit. He also presented the claim of Mrs. Mira G. Toman, asking for a refund of $2.09 for taxes paid and that the claimant be exempted under the law applied to soldiers and soldiers' widows, accompanied by affidavit filed on this date. Sarah Starr also requested exemption under the same law, affidavit filed Dec. 31, 1918.

The matter of recent increase of telephone rates between Los Angeles and Glendale was then taken up. A number of citizens interested in the matter were in the audience and the city attorney made a report giving details showing what had been done on his part, acting as city attorney in the matter. Considerable work had been done in the preparation of the city's case before the Railroad Commission on June 26 last, but the hearing had been postponed from that date until Aug. 22, 1918, but before that date arrived the control of the telephone company had been taken over by the federal government and the city attorney had been notified by the Railroad Commission that the case had been dropped from the calendar. Meanwhile Commissioner Loveland had informed him that it would probably again be set for a hearing. Later, Commissioner Edgerton had said that the commission had now no jurisdiction and suggested writing to the department at Washington, which was done, the request being made in the communication that no action looking toward the increase of rates be taken until the case of the city of Glendale could be presented. In reply to this communication the city attorney had re-

MARK FRANCY HOME

Mark Francy, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Francy of Kenwood street arrived this morning from Camp Lewis on a twenty-day furlough which he will spend in Glendale with his parents and friends here. He entered the army fourteen months ago as a member of the 19th Battalion of the 166th Depot Brigade, but he is now working with the Independent Asphalt Paving Company which has been employed to build roads and make other camp improvements and is taking no military training. Only one other soldier is thus employed, all the other workmen being civilians. This is his first visit home since he became a soldier. His brother Harry Francy who is employed in clerical work in the Quartermaster's Department at Camp Lewis, was able to get but five-days' furlough which he is spending across the line in Canada, in British Columbia, because it was too short a leave to come home.

GLENDALE SCHOOLS

Supervisors of Work in Glendale Schools have been meeting grade teachers today (Friday) at the Intermediate School. From 10 to 11 o'clock Mr. Fullen held a session in penmanship.

From 11 to 12 Miss Brennenmann, supervisor of music, directed a class, and during the same hour Miss White had a nature study section. No announcements have yet been made regarding the re-opening of Glendale schools.

FUNERAL OF EUGENE SINCLAIR

Funeral services over the body of Eugene Sinclair who died at his home 1468 East California street January 1st, will be held on Saturday at one o'clock at the Little Church of the Flowers at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

CARRIE JACOBS BOND

CELEBRATED SONG WRITER WILL BE SOLOIST AT NEXT COMMUNITY SING

Not as large an audience as usual was present at the Community Sing held Thursday evening at Glendale Union High School and led by Professor Kirchoffer with Mrs. L. N. Hagood at the piano. The professor was full of enthusiasm, however, and inspired his audience, to whom he gave instruction in the placing of the voice and how to sing for which they would be called upon to pay a pretty penny in a private lesson.

As a special attraction for next Thursday evening he announced that he would be accompanied by Carrie Jacobs Bond, the celebrated song writer who composed "The Perfect Day," "I Love You Truly," "Just A-wearyin' For You," and other great favorites, who will sing some of her own compositions. California claims Mrs. Bond, who resides in Hollywood, and it should share her pride in the fact that when news of the armistice reached New York, all Broadway broke into song and went up and down the great thoroughfare singing "This is the end of a perfect day!"

Her visit will be a great and unexpected treat and should attract an audience of larger proportions than usual to the Community Sing.

BOOKS FOR SOLDIERS SICK

Mrs. Danford, City Librarian, is sending forward through the medium of the Evening News another call which has reached her for contributions of books for the entertainment of soldiers in hospitals. In the literature, which has come to her relative to his need is the following item about the kind of writers soldiers like:

What sort of books do the wounded soldiers in hospitals and men in camps awaiting demobilization most desire? According to the Library War Service of the American Library Association, the immediate pressing need is for light current fiction, the men's minds turning quite distinctly just now to recreational reading.

A recent list of books particularly wanted includes such writers as Rex Beach, B. M. Bower, Edgar Rice Burroughs, Zane Grey, Henry Herbert Knipps, O. Henry, Peter B. Kyne, E. Phillips Oppenheim, Mary Roberts Reinhardt, Bertrand W. Sinclair, Booth Tarkington, Stewart Edward White, Harry Leon Wilson, and Harold Bell Wright.

It is evident from this list that what the soldiers are looking for is stories of action. The one characteristic these writers have in common is their dramatic ability. Books by any of these writers are especially welcomed as gifts for the men in service and can be sent to any public library with the assurance that they will promptly be forwarded.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar N. Denison of Mira Loma avenue in the Tropico District, are today celebrating their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary, and this evening their son, Earl E. Denison, of 330 West Broadway, and Mrs. Denison, are entertaining about thirty guests in their honor. Old friends of the celebrants, many of them from Michigan who are now living in California, will be present to congratulate the fortunate couple, who were married in the Wolverine State and spent the greater part of their wedded life there. Six years ago they came to this city to live and were followed by their son Earl two years later. Comrade Denison is a veteran of the civil war and is now a member of the local post. The evening will be devoted to music and a general good time, Miss Warner, of Los Angeles, an old friend of the family presiding at the piano and contributing several instrumental numbers.

SCOUTS ON HIKE TO ARTHUR LETTS

Seven boys from the Tropico troop of the Boy Scouts of America spent the last week end at Camp Arthur Letts. They started Friday morning and returned Sunday morning. The boys report a very good time. Three of the number were put on the chain gang to bring in wood Saturday. The boys were visited by their scout master a short time Friday evening. While at the camp, the boys attended scout school, and passed tests. Robert Searle, the Senior Patrol Leader, had with him the following boys: Glenn Roberts, Raymond Le Clercq, George Howe, George Melrose, Walter Sullivan, and Marshall Wilson.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair tonight with killing frosts.

HEALTH INSURANCE AND PROPAGANDA

"The German propaganda for the extension of compulsory health insurance, particularly into countries like the United States, will have to come to an end. The subtle menace of the further spread of German ideas of government and social control may now happily be considered a thing of the past," said Frederick L. Hoffman of Newark, N. J., at a thrift conference recently held in New York City.

Mr. Hoffman outlined the failure of German compulsory health insurance as one of the revelations of the war, uncovered the attempts to introduce the system in the United States, and explained why those attempts must be frustrated for the good of the whole people.

"The primary purpose of the establishment of compulsory social insurance in Germany," said Mr. Hoffman, "was to hinder the rise, curtail the powers, and ultimately destroy the socialistic movement, chiefly as represented by the political activities of the Social Democratic party. It was conceived by the imperial regime as a paramount necessity to stabilize and perpetuate the imperial throne and as a condition precedent to the secret projects of the military powers for world conquest and imperial aggrandizement. By means of a cleverly devised terminology and downright methods of deliberate deception, the German working people were deluded into the belief that the so-called system of compulsory health insurance was primarily intended for their benefit as the most effective means of social amelioration.

"Yet what was called social insurance was never a true system or method of insurance in the universally accepted sense of the term derived from the Rhodian Sea Laws, in which the theory of equitable contributions proportionate to the benefits secured was first laid down and for all time. But the recognized social value of insurance methods was clearly realized by the German government and utilized as a means of establishing the most drastic, burdensome and unnecessary system of social control conceivable, even under the regime of an imperial and military autocracy, for in all the autocracies of the past the government concerned itself chiefly with the control of the person for military purposes and the auxiliary exercise of the taxing power to secure the required revenues for military needs.

"The German government, clearly realizing in the rising tide of German democracy a serious menace to the imperial throne, relied upon the system of compulsory social insurance to bring about the complete subjection of German wage-earners to the will and the whim of the vast bureaucratic and, of course, primarily political machine organized in connection therewith."

The entire inadequacy of compulsory health insurance to accomplish the ends claimed for it by its German promoters, and therefore the futility of establishing any such system in the United States, is pointed out by Mr. Hoffman in his summary of the evidence against that system, which reads in part as follows:

"Instead of effectively suppressing social democracy throughout the German empire, the social insurance institutions merely served the purpose of furthering the spread and more general acceptance of radical socialistic doctrines, sustained by the feudalism and paternalism of the German government. While social insurance was inaugurated by an imperial message signed by William I, it unquestionably came to an end by the abject surrender of the German military regime in the armistice, bearing the signature of the leader of the Socialist party.

"Instead of lessening the prevailing amount of social unrest, the social insurance institutions merely increased the demand for additional benefits out of all proportion to the intrinsic value of the financial contributions made by employers and employees.

"Instead of substantially improving the economic condition of German wage-earners, the benefits provided through social insurance were never adequate to meet more than the requirements of a minimum standard of life. Regardless of a considerable measure of economic progress due to general causes, and largely, no doubt, to a protective tariff, the social conditions of the mass of the German people at the outbreak of the war, proportionate to their intelligence and industry, was lamentably below the corresponding standard of labor and life prevailing in the United States.

"The condition of the medical profession throughout Germany has not been materially improved, but quite to the contrary, the ethical standards have been perceptibly lowered, attaining in some communities to the proportions of a positive public scandal.

"After all, the most lamentable consequence of social insurance in Germany has been the measurable lowering of the social and individual morality of the German people. The system in every direction has fostered dishonesty, deception and dissimulation. Imposition upon the funds, the drawing of sick pay during periods of unemployment as the basis of certificates of illness wrongfully issued by attending physicians, had become the rule rather than the exception throughout Germany at the outbreak of the war. Numerous investigations made by impartial inquiry reveal the widespread practice of malingering, frequently attaining to half the proportion of all the sick claims, chiefly made for short periods of time and involving in the aggregate enormous burdens upon German industry.

"Lax social morality in this direction is reflected also in the high rate of suicide, in the relative frequency of suicide among children, in deplorable conditions of sex morality and lamentable shortcomings in housing accommodation. The war has revealed the true character of the German people, in marked contrast to the belief heretofore held, that in whatever other directions they might fall short by comparison, they were at least law-abiding, honorable and humane.

"The evidence revealed by a careful analysis of social insurance experience proves with equal conclusiveness that in consequence of a system resting upon principles of paternalism and coercion, the mind and the morals of the German people had become perverted to a condition of dissimulation and fraud, totally unthinkable of being tolerated in any other country in the world.

"The German experience proves the inadequacy of social insurance as an effective means of securing the required degree of con-

"LITTLE WOMEN" AT PALACE GRAND

Some fine attractions for the Palace Grand Theatre have been announced by Robert Jensen. Tonight, Friday, the popular Japanese actor, Sessue Hayakawa, will be seen in the screen play, "The Birthright."

Saturday the ever popular "Arizona" will be shown with Douglas Fairbanks in the leading role. It is one of the best western dramas that has ever been turned out by an American playwright and the screen version gives extra opportunity for the proper scenic effects.

Sunday the "Squaw Man" will occupy the stage with an all-star cast. For next Thursday Mr. Jensen has secured a big drawing card, nothing less than the dramatization of that old time but perennial favorite "Little Women," by Louisa M. Alcott, a sweet, wholesome story written in the period of the civil war but just as full of human interest now as then. Every boy and girl in Glendale, and the fathers and mothers who enjoyed it years ago, should have a chance to see it.

Take the book you have enjoyed to the public library and ask them to send it to a soldier in a hospital so he can enjoy it, too.

tinuous social progress demanded by modern standards of labor and life. The fundamental principle of such progress is social justice and the largest measure of political and social freedom consistent with the security, the well-being and the happiness of all. The German experiment in paternalism and coercion sounds the most convincing note of warning to other industrial countries, where under free institutions, under the ministry of voluntary service, savings and self-sacrifice, infinitely greater and more lasting results have been achieved. It is devoutly to be hoped that the warning will be heeded by the American people and that they will develop a strong and thoroughly effective opposition to any and every tendency toward autocracy, paternalism and coercion, inherently hostile to our traditional conception of personal and political liberty in a democracy."

Mr. Hoffman also declares that assertions concerning the physical progress of the German people under social insurance are disproved by the comparative statistics of physical well-being.—Christian Science Monitor.

Mrs. E. E. Gray is moving from 448 Pioneer Drive to 414 West Broadway.

The Glendale Commercial School, conducted by Miss Veysey, will reopen next Monday.

Richardson D. White, Superintendent of Glendale Schools, has been in San Diego this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stauffacher spent New Year's day in Long Beach as the guest of Mrs. Stauffacher's mother.

The monthly report of the Red Cross Shop on Brand Boulevard indicates that the little place of business earned $130 for the cause during the month of December.

Mrs. Barkmeyer, sister of Louis Sipple of 1239 E. Harvard st., was his guest New Year's day and accompanied him and Mrs. Sipple to the Pasadena Rose Tournament.

Among our returned soldiers is Lawrence Chandler who arrived last week from Fortress Monroe, Va., where he was taking a course in the Coast Artillery school. He was mustered out at Fort Scott, San Francisco.

Mrs. Jessie Stewart of 813 Brand Boulevard entertained Thursday with her regular fortnightly musical matinee. About thirty guests were present and a delightful afternoon was spent by all who enjoyed her hospitality.

Sergeant George Grist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grist, who got home Christmas eve, has been an object of much attention since his return. As he has been honorably discharged, he is trying to get accustomed to civilian clothes again after being so long accustomed to a uniform.

Glendale teachers in the Grammar Schools are improving their leisure by a course in writing under P. A. Fullen, the supervisor of writing in the grammar schools and in the commercial department of the High School. They met for instruction this (Friday) morning at the Intermediate School.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wilde and families and Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Goodwin motored to Tournament Park, Pasadena, New Year's day, to witness the football game, and later in the day the entire party was entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin at their home on Garfield avenue.

Mrs. J. F. Cullen of 606 North Maryland who has been confined to her bed and seriously ill for the past three weeks with a complication of influenza and bronchial asthma, is improving, and her many friends hope for her speedy recovery. She is still very weak, however, and not yet out of danger.

According to reports, Glendale boys of the 143rd Artillery who are enroute for San Francisco, where they are to be demobilized, are snow-bound midway across the continent. Corporal Sidney Simon was at Salt Lake City, according to latest accounts. A recent letter which the Beach family had from J. T. Beach stated that he was at Colorado Springs.

Corporal Dudley C. Newton, of the 125th infantry, wounded in action, has been located in a hospital in France. This information was contained in a letter to his sister, Mrs. Lorin T. Rowley of this city, who had instituted inquiries through the War Department. She was further advised that if any additional news came, it would be forwarded to her at once. She will now endeavor to ascertain in what hospital he has been located.

Harold McElroy and other of the anti-air craft men who were expected to reach Glendale ere this are still at Camp Dix. In a letter which W. W. McElroy received from his son last Saturday Harold stated he was in the hospital with a mild case of influenza, but he expected to be released in time to get home by the middle of January. The rest of the company are in quarantine. Miss Aileen Grist has received a war souvenir from Corporal Whelon, at Camp Dix, in the shape of a pretty paper knife made from a fragment of a German shell.

Dr. Jessie A. Russell reports that she addressed the Los Angeles Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations yesterday at the Broadway auditorium. Dr. Albert Shiels, County Supt. of Schools, was also on the program. Today, she says, she will speak on Legislation at the Woman's City Club, Long Beach, and that Mrs. C. H. Spence will entertain at luncheon in her honor prior to the program. Dr. Russell says she will on Saturday leave for Sacramento where she will attend the opening sessions of the legislature, also filling important speaking engagements in Sacramento, San Francisco, San Jose, and Oakland.

John Robert White of this city, elected to the California Assembly, left last night for Sacramento to attend the legislative sessions.

Howard M. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Anderson of Isabel street, has received his honorable discharge from the army. He was in the Coast Artillery and was stationed at Fortress Monroe.

Dr. and Mrs. C. Stuart Steelman entertained at the Elks' cabaret dinner and dance on New Year's eve. Mr. and Mrs. H. Steelman and wife, and Mrs. Thompson who were also their guests on a trip to the Rose Tournament and ball game at Pasadena on New Year's day.

Mrs. F. A. Field and her daughter Miss Bessie Field, of Kenwood street, returned Thursday evening from a three-day outing at Pasadena where they were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bubach and took in the Rose Tournament and other New Year events. Mr. and Mrs. Koch and infant, who have a large orange ranch at Placentia, were also guests. Mrs. Koch is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bubach and she and Miss Field were schoolmates.

NEW YEAR'S EVE PARTY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Mathieson of 505 North Jackson street was the scene of a very pretty New Year's eve party. Red and green holiday decorations gave an appropriately festive appearance to the rooms and progressive games provoked much merriment throughout the evening. A dainty luncheon was served at twelve o'clock when the guests were seated around a big table and when the whistles blew each one wished every one else a Happy New Year. The party was given for the sister of the hostess, Mrs. H. S. Clewett, whose birthday falls on January first. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Henry Melone, Charles Erling, C. R. Lusby, D. R. Mathieson, and H. S. Clewett. Mr. and Mrs. Claud Case and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Osgood who were also invited, were unable to be present on account of influenza in their families.

NEW YEAR PARTY

Mrs. George Love, 325 West Colorado, was hostess, Wednesday evening, January 1, to a group of friends at a delightful dinner and theatre party. The guests were seated at six o'clock at a beautifully appointed table with a centerpiece of large butterflies flanking a bank of red carnations surrounded by a kewpie clad in a huge red bow. The kewpie held in leash with ribbons extending to each plate, large bulldogs which served as place cards and favors. Following the perfectly served dinner, the guests went to the Orpheum where they enjoyed the performance.

W. R. C. ATTENTION!

There will be a specially called meeting of the W. R. C. Tuesday, January 7, at one o'clock for the purpose of electing a treasurer and transacting any other business which may come before the Corps.
 Louise Purnell, Pres.

Paying ammunition makers $20 a day to make the ammunition and those gallant soldiers in the war zone $1 a day to shoot it at the foe looks like a long line of inequality to us.

ANONYMOUS

The writer attended a banquet in Los Angeles a short time ago, given by a well known friendly society, attended by about 900 guests. The courses of soup, meats, fruits, etc., were fine, including the speeches and music. BUT the coffee was BUM. It was the most abominable stuff that anyone could put before a person. The writer noticed that over 95 per cent of those present did not drink their coffee. It marred the whole banquet, so the writer called one of the waiters and asked him whose coffee was being enjoyed so much, and he mentioned one of the most largely advertised brands packed in fancy cans.

Had it been Booth's Better Blend Coffee you would have heard those fellows calling again and again for more.

You don't know what good coffee tastes like until you try Booth's.

Comparisons are odious. Roasted and ground fresh daily. Sold only in bulk, no fancy can, 35c, 40c, 45c Pound.

 charged for Hollywood which was a part of Los Angeles and under the same post office, but that the present toll rate would be continued at San Pedro. He said that some communities would gain and some would lose by the arrangement. It was pointed out that the Tropico district of Glendale was well within the six mile limit but Mason argued that the Glendale post office was not in that district.

Mr. Wells humorously suggested that the Glendale post office be moved to the Tropico district if it would make all that difference to the people of Glendale.

The point was then brought out that Glendale has no separate post office but is a branch of the Los Angeles post office with the same inter-city postage rate of 2c. Therefore, if no toll is charged between Hollywood and other branches of the Los Angeles Post Office, no toll should be charged Glendale. The ruling in regard to San Pedro would not hold because San Pedro now has and for many years has had an independent post office.

Ways and means of bringing pressure to bear to secure a revision of the ruling as regards Glendale were discussed by Messrs. S. N. Clark, Frederick Baker, A. T. Cowan, O. A. Lane, Norton C. Wells, E. U. Emery, William C. Wattles, and others, with City Attorney Evans and members of the Board of Trustees who asked for an expression from those present in the form of a vote. This expression was embodied in a motion by Norton C. Wells, president of the Greater Glendale Improvement Association, which motion expressed confidence in the Board of Trustees and city attorney and recommended that he be authorized to go forward and take such action as seemed most advisable to protect the interests of the city in this matter. Later interpretations of the motion, which was carried unanimously, included the recommendation to bring an injunction suit restraining the company from putting the order into effect, should such step be necessary as a last resort.

It appeared to be the unanimous conviction of those present that the order referred to was a blanket order which had no specific reference to Glendale and that in applying it to Glendale Mr. Mason and the telephone officials in general had been guilty of a misinterpretation of its terms inasmuch as Glendale is not an independent post office center.

Messrs. Wattles and Lane represented that the feeling among subscribers was very bitter and that if the raise should become effective, large numbers, possibly as high as sixty per cent, would discontinue with telephone service altogether inasmuch as they could not afford toll service and did not consider it worth the price for the small local use they had for it. The Board was assured that any time it wished the moral support of the community, a mass meeting would be called which could be depended upon to bring out many hundreds of telephone subscribers.

RED CROSS KNITTING SUSPENDED

A circular of instructions has been received by the Knitting Department of the Glendale Red Cross Chapter from National Headquarters, announcing the suspension of further knitting. In conformity to this order Mrs. Campbell, chairman of the department, states that no more yarn stocks will be given out except as yarn may be needed to complete garments now in process of construction, for all partially completed socks, sweaters, etc., are to be finished and sent to the Pacific Division in San Francisco together with all left-over stocks of yarn.

In this connection it is a good place to state that knitters will be very welcome in the sewing department under the chairmanship of Mrs. Helen Sadler, who has received a large quota of flannel dresses for four-year-old girls to be made this month. The work of relief which has been undertaken by the Red Cross in Belgium, France, and other countries of Europe, will increase rather than diminish, and women who can use a needle, even though they may not be very expert, can do fine service for the Red Cross and humanity in general by giving a portion of their time to these urgent tasks.

SHAKESPEARE SECTION

MENTAL TELEPATHY versus MENTAL APATHY

To the Editor Glendale News.

Dear Sir:
 It's boiling, the pot, it will soon be boiling over; there's a silent kind of rumbling, underground and also in the air, the telephone wires are trembling; there's a wonderful silence in the atmosphere. Some of my customers had been notified verbally over the 'phone, of extra charges from $1.50 a month to $1.75. Then the next silent shock was that, commencing February 1st, just as a kind of New Year's gift, (I don't know to which either them or our lovely new and imposing edifice, that has been erected to make a Greater Glendale), a charge of 10c for every call to Los Angeles would be made. This will not be so hard on private residences, as it will on the business man, whose calls to the city amount beyond the three figures monthly. This extra charge, or imposition, is going to create a great hardship on everyone, and now that the two companies are consolidated, competition is dead and they have got us now just where we cannot help ourselves.

On the Home Phone, there was no restrictions on calls to Los Angeles. The Sunset allowed 50 to 60 a month and all over that was charged a small sum. Hundreds of residents in Glendale merely had a 'phone put into their houses so they could talk to their friends in Los Angeles. But I'm afraid if this hardship is inflicted on them of a 10c call; it will be good bye to the 'phone for them and an extra revenue to Uncle Sam of an extra 2c stamp to carry their message in a letter.

I don't know whether our City Trustees can do anything in the matter or not, but if the powers that be viz. the Federal authorities or railroad commissioners, etc., etc., can not, then I suppose we must grin and bear it, unless the unforeseen should happen, that of at the end of January everyone of the 4,000 subscribers in this vicinity ordered their 'phones taken out—what a Babylonian fall there would be. Perhaps our city fathers can straighten things out, if not, the Greater Glendale Association might on its might accomplish something.

TUJUNGA

Balton Hall was a scene of festivities on Tuesday evening. The men of the place entertained the women, and did it well. The supper was followed by a program and music until the old year should make its bow to the new. A roaring fire filled the big fireplace, making the room warm and cheerful. Three long tables the length of the room, and one across each end, were set ready for the invited guests. There was a large attendance and nearly every place was filled. Hot pork and beans, sandwiches, pickles, cake, cream and coffee was the menu, and judging by the small amount left, every one went away rejoicing. As soon as the dinner was finished, the program took its place, with John S. McGroarty as toastmaster, in his happiest vein. Mr. Parcher responded to the toast, "Our Women," in his usual able manner, and if we are able to live up to his eloquent tribute, we shall be kept busy. This was followed by a trilling solo by Miss Marcellina Shaver which was very much enjoyed by all who heard her. We had as our honored guest for the evening Brigadier General H.J. Hatch, from "overseas," and he was called on for a few remarks, to which he responded readily, although a bit of jolly sparring passed with the toastmaster which every one enjoyed. The general's short talk on the war in France depicted conditions so clearly and fairly that all who listened felt they could say with Oliver Twist, "More!" Following this came a drill in the manual of arms by Don Wieman and Carrol Parcher, General Hatch putting them through, and we were proud of our boys. Mr. Wieman finished the program with a to to "Our Future Outlook," in his usual able manner, and finished with a short original poem to the women of Tujunga, and his method of making Tujunga rhyme in different ways called forth a bit of repartee from our toastmaster, who said that he had been a poet for some years but had never been able to find a word to rhyme with Tujunga, and thought Mr. Wieman should be congratulated in his effort. The program was interspersed with songs. Dr. Buck favored the audience with two songs, "Absent" and "I'm a-Wearying for You," in his usual happy manner. Mrs. Buck playing his accompaniment. Mrs. Wodoruff led the community singing which was continued after the program was finished until dispersing time ushered in the new year. A rising vote of thanks was given the men for the entertainment, which was so ably executed that the ladies are willing they should try again.

Mr. Douglas has sold his house on Monte Vista to a cousin, and will build this spring on his new lot on San Ysidro.

Harry Baker, his wife and Mrs. Ward attended the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena. Also Mr. Johnson, Mrs. Ludke and sister, Mrs. Wilson.

Although the weather has been cold for the past few days, and ice has formed in some places, we hear of no damage to fruit. The thermometer registered 24 to 34 degrees in different places in the valley.

Mr. Brummel of Los Angeles purchased the house on the Thompson lot and moved it to his own newly-purchased lot on Manzanita Drive. As soon as the carpenters are through with their part of the work, Mr. Brummel, with his wife and two sons, will move into it.

The Ladies' Aid held its first meeting of the new year at the home of Miss Zoe Gilbert. Mrs. Kearney and Miss Gilbert were hostesses.

Mrs. Louisa Bergman, wife of John Bergman, who formerly lived here on the place now owned by D. C. Dean, passed away at her home in Los Angeles last week. She had been a great sufferer for a number of months and the passing was not unexpected.

Charles W. Dean returned to Brawley on Monday.

Mr. Bryant and family of Downey, who resided here some months ago, will again return to Tujunga and will occupy the Knudsen house.

Mrs. Cora Limaberry entertained her cousin, Brigadier General H. J. Hatch, and his father, Capt. Hatch, and Miss Mabel Hatch on Monday. General Hatch expects to be here about ten days before resuming his military duties.

On account of her inability to get holders for Christmas candles, one lady used the acorn cups of the live oak and found they were just the right size. They were pierced through the bottom and wired to the tree.

LA CRESCENTA

"Tonight's the night."—Don't forget that Big Vaudeville and Dance at the Schoolhouse. All professional talent—from "The Big Time" circuits. Gale of the Times, the cartoonist wrote one of the sketches and if possible will attend. Dancing from 10—12, and all of this for just 25c, and all of the 25c will go to the War Charities. There will be a number of the Boys home from the various camps too to lend a bit of color and brightness to the affair. Don't overlook this the first of the year for a good time and a good deed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ballard who have been occupying one of Mrs. Bert-

rand's cottages leave today for Sierra Madre.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans who have both been ill with serious colds are convalescent again.

The Picture Show is Friday, January 10. Don't forget the change of night, and its Raffles, "The Amateur Cracksmen." It is a clever detective story and adapted from the stories of Raffles and Bunny that made such a hit some years ago. Banymore is Raffles, and it will be a treat. Orchestra music and a warm auditorium—all for 10 cents.

Red Cross Class meets Thursday from 10 to 5 at the Schoolhouse. Just a reminder that your presence and needles and thimbles will be appreciated.

On Wednesday evening, thieves broke into Mr. R. Toschke's place, stole his geese and some ducks. On their return home, Mr. and Mrs. Toschke frightened them away but a clue in the shape of a hat and a dog was left. A warrant was issued on Thursday and two Mexicans arrested. One of the geese was found dead on the road near Johnson's.

Miss Marguerite Hauber was home for New Year's Day.

Ray Cookson is at Camp Merritt, N. J., detained in quarantine for ship fever in his Co. He hopes to be home in a few days now.

HUNS CALLED BRUTES

LONDON.—The term "brutes" appears often in English newspaper stories of interviewed repatriated prisoners.

This is why:

"I was working in a hospital near Soissons," said a young non-commissioned officer waiting on the station platform. "A British prisoner who was suffering from dysentery was partially unconscious.

"I saw the Germans put him in a coffin. They pushed me away as they began to nail down the lid on the man who was not dead. Later they informed me they had nailed down the coffin lid with 4-inch nails before putting it in the grave. The prisoner was buried alive.

Other stories:

"I saw a British officer, helpless because he was an unarmed prisoner, being bullied by a German private. The private demanded the officer's boots. When the officer refused to give them up, the private wounded the officer with a bayonet thrust. Then the private removed the officer's boots and carried them away."

An officer more inhumane than most German commandants was in charge of a camp where an Irish soldier fell exhausted. German guards prodded him with their bayonets, wounding him badly, but he lacked the strength to rise. Fearing they should be punished, the guards put the unconscious man on a track and let a locomotive pass over him. A court martial decided the prisoner came to his death through accident. One returned prisoner said he came from a camp in which only 47 prisoners were left alive. Originally the camp's population was 1500.

THE CALIFORNIA ALMOND

Within the next few years California growers will, in all probability, be forced to accept lower prices for their almonds than they are now receiving, say R. S. Taylor in a recent State Agricultural Bulletin. The American markets are fully supplied at present prices, yet constantly increasing acreage will inevitably result in a greatly increased tonnage. European almonds are being produced at a lower net cost and can be laid down on the Atlantic Coast more cheaply than is possible with the California product. This brings the growers face to face with the necessity of becoming more thoroughly familiar with the most economical methods of production and marketing if they are to continue to make a profit. It is essential, therefore, that a careful study be made of all the factors concerned in the growth, production and final disposition of the almond crop.

While the almond is in many ways an easy tree to grow where conditions are favorable, it is more particular in its requirements than most common orchard fruits, and the grower may find it difficult to produce a good, thrifty tree unless he chooses the proper location. Very often it will grow well and make a fine healthy tree, but owing to unfavorable conditions, will not bear regularly, if at all.

The almond tree is hardy and will endure about as much frost as the peach, but its blossoms are very tender and there is a great range in the degree of frost which will cause injury.

In determining the desirability of a location with regard to freedom from frost, the possibility of adequate air drainage is an important item. For this reason lands along the lower foothills immediately above the floor of valleys are ordinarily much less subject to frost—because the cold air is free to drain away to the lower levels. Variable spring conditions especially as regards temperature after growth commences, are highly undesirable because warm weather

CHRISTIANITY AND DEMOCRACY

Occidental College,
Jan. 2, 1919.
Mr. A. T. Cowan, editor of the Evening News:

We are entering a new era in the history of the world. The world knows it; the world feels it.

Many of our boys have gone across the water and laid down their lives in the great war that has just terminated. They have, as we love to say, made the supreme sacrifice. They have given all they had to give.

What were those men fighting for? We all know. They were not fighting for America, nor for England, nor France, nor even Belgium. They were fighting for Democracy.

Yet today we have no Democracy. We have removed but a single barrier.

Literally millions of human beings are starving on this earth for the necessities of life. Little girls in England are working ten hours a day for five shillings a week making ribbons for our spring hats and for our cravats. Children have again been turned loose in the workshops of America. Our brothers in Mexico, robbed by greedy money-hoarders of other lands (including America), are constantly on the verge of rebellion for want of the bare necessities of life. The peoples of Japan who produce the rice of the world are hungry. There is not a nation in the world without great, seething masses of poor.

Can we ignore this fact and continue to call ourselves Christians?

Can we have Christianity without Democracy?

Sincerely,
Kenneth Beldin.

immediately followed by cold tends to produce sour sap, fruit drop, and kindred physiological ills.

Foggy or moist weather during ripening is highly objectionable because the nuts do not dry out rapidly enough. Continued damp, cold weather at the time of blooming is apt to sour the pollen or actually wash it away and thus prevent fertilization of the blossoms.

There is considerable evidence to show that some varieties are always self-sterile. The California has proved the best pollinizer thus far tested for all varieties that bloom near it.

The almond is a deep rooted tree and draws heavily upon the plant-nourishing elements of the soil and a large amount of mineral matter is needed to develop and mature the seeds. It will not endure standing water in the soil for any length of time. Alkali lands should be carefully avoided. Water for irrigating almonds must always be used with great care and be so applied that it will readily spread through the soil.

Harvested almonds awaiting removal or sale will become rancid if stored in a warm or damp place. If properly cared for and worm infection is prevented, they will keep satisfactorily for a year or more.

WOMEN WORKERS OF ITALY PROTECTED

ROME.—Since Italian women have entered various occupations formerly closed to them, the Italian government has undertaken establishment of rules of work in conformity with physical needs of women.

The operating of street cars is one of the lines of work which in Italy, as in nearly all of the other Allied countries, has passed almost exclusively into the hands of the women. As this gives indication of being a permanent employment for them, the Italian government, through prefects of every province, has just issued a circular establishing rules and conditions under which women conductors and motorwomen must work.

The minimum age limit is fixed at 18 years for conductors and 20 years for motorwomen. Both must pass medical examinations to establish that they have the physical strength and qualities necessary for the work.

The motorwomen are entitled to sit down at their work wherever conditions permit it, and to this end the street car companies are required to furnish each with a stool.

SPECIAL EXAMINATION

John P. Carter, collector of internal revenue, has received information from the commissioner's office at Washington to the effect that a special examination for traveling and resident auditor, income tax unit, internal revenue bureau, will be given. The examination is non-assembled, applicants being required to file application on Form 1312 with the United States civil service commission at Washington. Later the eligibles obtained from ratings made on Forms 1312 will be given an oral examination to determine their personal characteristics and address, tact, judgment, adaptability and general fitness for the performance of the duties of the position. Vacancies in the office of the deputy commissioner, income tax unit, bureau of internal revenue, Washington, D. C., will be filled as a result of this application. Anyone interested should make application to the United States civil service commission for blank forms 1312 and additional information pertaining to this examination. Address of the local secretary for the southern district of California is room 618, Federal Building, Los Angeles, California. JOHN P. CARTER, Collector.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

ceived the copy of an order by Postmaster General Burleson, to the effect that a committee had been appointed to look into the matter of rates generally. A second letter was received later from W. H. Lamar, apparently acting for the committee. The city attorney wrote again on Oct. 1, asking what opportunity would be given the city of Glendale to be heard in the matter, to which no answer has been received. The city attorney also stated that his law associate, Mr. Abbott, having gone to Washington, had been requested by him to look into the matter personally, which he had done, reporting under date of Oct. 14 that he had had an interview with D. G. Lewis of the committee appointed to standardize rates, to the effect that the committee did not consider special cases, that its purpose was to study the whole question and not to take up special cases. The commissioner has also stated to Mr. Abbott that special franchises would probably not be considered nor allowed; that every city would be treated on a parity with other cities and that the recommendations of the committee would be of a general nature.

The city attorney had also interviewed Mr. Mason, manager of the telephone company in Los Angeles, who had shown him a copy of the order received from the postoffice department, authorizing the increase in rates to be made effective Jan. 21, 1919. Mr. Mason states that for the purpose of fixing these rates the zone system has been the basis, centering in the Los Angeles postoffice; all points within a radius of six miles from that center being charged 5c for a Los Angeles connection. The distance between Los Angeles and Glendale established by that limit made the rate 10c. Mr. Mason admitted that the rate to Hollywood, about the same distance from Los Angeles as Glendale, would be one-half the rate charged Glendale, Glendale being considered as under the long distance rules.

When Mr. Mason had been asked for an explanation of this apparent inequality, he stated that the distance was estimated from postoffice to postoffice, there being no postoffice in Hollywood. When his attention was called to the fact that there is no postoffice in Glendale except as a branch of the Los Angeles office, his reply did not indicate any consistency in the matter of establishing the rate comparing the two points.

The city attorney stated that Mr. Barker had been employed as an expert by the city of Glendale in the telephone matter and that he had investigated the matter and had secured valuable data on the city's claims in the event of a hearing being obtained. In addition to this, at the instance of the city attorney, the city had secured certain statistics, among other things showing that the telephone company has about 2,900 subscribers in the city of Glendale, and that of that number there are 982 who have business connections with Los Angeles representing 2,633 special numbers. That the total number of calls made through the Glendale office daily is about 8,000.

At the close of the city attorney's report, the subject was discussed by a number of citizens in the audience, opinion being expressed to the effect that the action of the Los Angeles officials in charging the rates was due to a mistake in the construction of a general order; the belief being expressed that if the special merits of the case could be presented to the higher authorities in such a way as to secure a hearing, the claims of the city of Glendale would be maintained.

In reference to suggestions that the matter be taken up through our Representative in Congress, Attorney Frederick Baker expressed the opinion that it is not a matter to be brought before that body, and he hoped that the city attorney would continue his work in an effort to see what could be done.

Mr. Wattles expressed the belief that it would be possible to induce 60 or 70 per cent of the telephone subscribers to have their telephones disconnected rather than pay the proposed increased cost.

Mr. O. A. Lane favored similar action and an aggressive campaign to prevent the increase. Other citizens present expressed their opinion along similar lines.

The chairman stated that in order to get an expression from the citizens as to their wishes in the matter, he would consider a motion from the audience. N. C. Wells made a motion, which was adopted, that the city attorney be requested to follow the matter up and suggest a plan for the city to follow in order that its interest may be protected, and further that the citizens express their confidence in the city trustees and city attorney to do all possible to protect the interest of the city in this matter.

On motion of Trustee Muhleman, seconded by Trustee Jackson, in accordance with the sense of the motion adopted by the members of the audience, the city attorney was instructed to follow the matter up vigorously and report to the board with recommendations as to the best policy to be pursued.

Reports were received and filed from the tax collector, city recorder and health officer. The report of the tax collector showed the sum of $887.02 collected since the last report, making a total to date of $51,818.09. The report of the health officer regarding the influenza epidemic showed a total number of 64 cases reported within the week ending on Jan. 2, 1919.

The ordinance read at the meeting of Dec. 26, 1918, "providing for the levy and collection of taxes by certain county officials of the county of Los Angeles," was again read, and on motion of Trustee Shaw, seconded by Trustee Henry, adopted as ordinance No. 243.

The city attorney made a report on the claim of Mrs. Lucas, presented at a former meeting, recommending that her request for a reduction of her assessment and amount of taxes paid in 1916 be complied with. On motion of Trustee Muhleman it was ordered that the recommendation of the city attorney in this case be adopted, and that upon the payment by her of the amount due for the redemption of the tax sale certificate the excess be refunded to her.
